

Trinidad & Tobago - Fiske & Ferie. Priser 2017

Trinidad & Tobago er en øystat nord for Sør-Amerika. Trinidad betyr treenighet og fikk navnet sitt av Christopher Columbus på grunn av de tre fjellkjedene, Northern, Central og Southern Ranges som strekker seg fra vest til øst på Trinidad. Søsterøyen Tobago ligger 30 kilometer nordøst for Trinidad. På begge øyene bor det til sammen 1,2 millioner innbyggere og hovedspråket er engelsk. Hovedstaden heter Port of Spain og har 37000 innbyggere. Den dominerende natur er tropisk regnskog, men ved kysten er det flotte sandstrender. Dette er plassen for en fin ferie med utrolig fiske i tillegg.

Flotte strender gir mange bademuligheter.

Man kan fiske både dag og natt.

Fisketid hele året.

BLUE MARLIN

Blue Marlin is the largest and most exciting gamefish that can be caught in Tobago's waters. In May of 2013 a Blue Marlin weighing 1,005.9 pounds was caught during the Tobago International Game Fishing Tournament by angler Brendon Bernard aboard the boat Predator. Catches of fish over 600 pounds are regularly recorded in these waters. These large predators can battle anglers for several hours with runs sometimes in excess of 800 meters in a few seconds. They are considered by anglers world over as the King of all gamefish for their extremely strong fighting ability and aerial acrobatic displays. Around Tobago, Blue Marlin can be caught throughout the year, however, they are more abundant from October through June with the peak period being February through May. Catch and release.

Island Record 1,005.9 pounds.

SAILFISH

Sailfish are a regular catch during the months of October through May around Tobago. They are fast and acrobatic swimmers. They provide anglers with a very exciting battle, high speed tail walks with aerial leaps and reel screaming runs in excess of 300 meters. Sailfish quite often travel in shoals and multiple strikes and hook ups are not unusual. Light tackle in the 20 to 30 pound line class is the preferred angling equipment to catch Sailfish on.

Catch and release.

WHITE MARLIN

White Marlin are considered the most acrobatic of all billfish. Though they are a rare catch in Tobago's waters they do show up from time to time during the offshore season with the best months being November through May. This is a very exciting gamefish particularly on lighter tackle. A very fast swimmer that can jump clear out of the water time and time again during the battle.

Island record 58 pounds.

LONG BILL SPEARFISH

Spearfish are the rarest of all billfish species worldwide. The Long bill spearfish is an Atlantic species that can sometimes be caught around Tobago. Fortunately for us at Hard Play fishing we have been successful in catching all of the Atlantic Billfish species including this Spearfish which was photographed and released aboard Hard Play II in 2010. Catch and release.

SWORDFISH

Swordfish can be caught around Tobago all year round, however, October through April are the best months to target these Gladiators of the sea. Mostly we fish for Swordies at night, however, day time deep dropping works just as well. Swordies are very tough fighters and should be handled with caution when bringing a live one to the boat. Great eating fish, however, Swordfish should be targeted responsibly and not over fished.

Yellow Fin Tuna

Yellow Fin Tuna travels in large fast moving shoals. They are very strong fighters. Once hooked they can challenge even the most seasoned anglers with deep high speed runs and stubborn pin wheel rotations on the way up from the depths. Anglers should take short pumps on the rod and keep a constant pressure on the fish at all times while reeling it in.

Yellow fin Tuna are excellent eating fish and can be prepared several ways. Sushi, Sashimi and Cevechi are probably the best ways to prepare Tuna.

Island record 142 pounds.

Wahoo

Wahoo can reach sizes exceeding 100 pounds in Tobago's waters. They are fast swimming fish that often fool anglers into thinking that they have hooked a Marlin, They are a common offshore specie that travel in shoals. Multiple catches are common. Aboard Hard Play we have recorded as many as 77 Wahoo caught in an 8 hour fishing trip. An excellent eating fish and a favorite on the Grill. For best results slice thin, marinade and grill for 90 to 120 seconds on each side. Island record 103 pounds.

Dolphin

Dolphin fish is the most abundant off shore gamefish that are found in these waters. They travel mostly in shoals of 5 to 15 fish but can be found around floatsum and FAD's in huge numbers. When Mahi are in feeding mode, fishing action can be fast and furious. Multiple hook ups with high leaping Mahi that put up quite a challenging battle for the angler. The big males also known as the "Bulls" are very stubborn to get to the boat . Another top eating fish that is great on the grill and for cevechi. Island record 63.12 pounds.

King Mackerel

This is a very common specie that is caught near the reefs of Tobago. They can get to over 60 pounds and are very fast swimming while hooked. The large Kingfish are referred to as "Smokers" as they are said to make your reels smoke after a reel scorching 200 meter run. Excellent fighters that are welcome aboard as dinner. Try delicious Kingfish on our Catch N Cook Tour....

Jack Crevalle

Another abundant reef fish that can be caught at the reef edges, They are called Cavali in Trinidad and Tobago. Very strong fighter on light tackle, the Cavali can get to weights of over 50 pounds in these waters. A shoaling fish that travels in numbers. Though it is eaten throughout the islands it is not considered a top quality fish, the flesh is brownish in color and a bit grainy, nonetheless, when freshly caught they are typically used in fish broth. A very popular fish soup made with fresh vegetables and fish on Tobago.

Black Grouper

The Black Grouper can be caught on shallow reefs around Tobago. They live and feed near the bottom, as a result, they are typically caught on deep diving lures and down rigger baits. They can exceed weights of 60 pounds. Anglers should keep a steady pressure on the Black Grouper to keep them from swimming into their laire. Once they have made it back into their underwater caves it is almost impossible to get them out. This is an excellent eating fish baked , grilled or in fish broth.

Great Barracuda

Terror of the reef. Barracuda can reach lengths of over 7 feet and weigh up to 100 pounds. They are toothy predators that can cut a large fish in half in a quick single strike. Barracuda are abundant around the reefs of Tobago and provide a short but acrobatic fight. Excellent eating fish, in fact It is considered by many as the best tasting fish that are caught off Tobago. In the Northern Caribbean they can contain a toxin known as cigutera which can be very harmful to humans, however, cigutera does not exist south of Martinique making the Barracuda a safe and tasty table fare here on Tobago.

Mutton Snapper

Mutton snapper are usually caught while trolling over shallow reefs around Tobago they can also be caught Jigging and with strip baits at depths from as shallow as 3 feet down to 300 feet. King Mackerel

TARPON

Tarpon is one of the world's most sought after and toughest inshore gamefish. They can get to weights of over 200 pounds in the waters of Trinidad & Tobago. Live baiting is the preferred fishing method, however, the Silver King can be taken on plugs, jigs, poppers, lures, flies and on dead bait. This tough fighter jumps many times during the battle. Large Tarpon can be fought for several hours and there is no telling who will win the battle.

Catch and release.

BONEFISH

They are called the Silver Ghost of the Flats. Bonefish are built for speed and have amazing stamina. They can peel off 100 meters of line in seconds. Stealth and good vision are important assets while stalking bonefish on the Flats of Tobago. They are very shy and will disappear upon the slightest movement on the water. Flyfishing is the preferred method to target Bonefish, however light spinning tackle can also be used.

Catch and release.

SNOOK

Snook can be found near river mouths and in brackish waters around Tobago's coastline. They are shy feeders and as a result it takes the perfect presentation to entice this predator to bite. Once hooked they swim for any cover that they can get into. Anglers should do their best to keep them away from jetty pilings and mangrove
